

Word Replacements

The following words are the most common words you might use in conversation or casual writing, but should be avoided in writing thematic essays or DBQ's.

As a reminder, you should never use instant message or texting abbreviations when writing for school or work.

You can use the list below for a replacement word and make your essay or DBQ shine. When using the words below make sure that the replacement word(s) fit into the context of what you are trying to say.

a lot	many plethora a great deal several various a large number overabundance surplus	therefore	as a result consequently for that reason thus hence subsequently like	for example similar to akin to reminiscent of resembling for instance	so (or) so that	as a result of consequently thus subsequently accordingly hence because	since for the reason that given that in view of the fact that given that as a result of due to	that	to facilitate with the intention of with the purpose of with the aim of since	from the time when consequently as a result of hence	such as	for example for instance similar to akin to reminiscent of resembling as well as	in addition to on top of over and above along with subsequently	but	in contrast on the other hand whereas otherwise with	among amid along with in conjunction with in combination with in addition to	although (or) even though (or) even with	despite the fact that notwithstanding regardless of in the face of