

How APPARTS can help create a POV statement for DBQ

Author Bias	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • This document is most likely biased because as an Italian, he probably doesn't understand the local German Customs. • This man is probably saying this in an attempt to win favor with the working class since both the nobility and the workers share the bourgeoisie as a common enemy. • Sasson probably felt this way because as a soldier, he had witnessed the carnage of the First World War firsthand • This document is likely propaganda and therefore unreliable since it was created by the German News Service.
Place and Time	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The brutality of the Germans is most likely exaggerated due to that fact that this document was produced by the French in the midst of World War II. • Because the Kaiser gave this speech at the beginning of the war, he is most likely trying to rally his people around the nation in order to get people to enlist in the military • Because this document was produced in 1928, ten years after World War I, it is most likely unbiased since the wartime fervor would have long since died down. • Because this document was produced in 1928, the author may be somewhat cautious of violence due to the growing influence of fascism in Europe at the time
Prior Knowledge	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • His irritation with the festivities of St. Andrew's Day may come from the fact that he is a Lutheran and Lutherans don't believe in the veneration of Saints. • Charles V may have felt this way because he had a very difficult time holding his large empire together and did not need impoverished souls hurting his image. • Rousseau probably had such a callous attitude toward child-rearing because he had several illegitimate children which he just dropped off in foundling homes without a second thought.
Audience	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Since this was likely aimed at the illiterate masses, the spirituality of the church was probably exaggerated to gain more converts. • Since most educated people at the time were men, Pizan likely tempers her argument to appeal to men's common attitudes toward women at the time.
Reason	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Since Colin Powell was trying to convince the United Nations of the wisdom of attacking Iraq, some facts may have been distorted in order to better make his case. • Because Galileo was defending himself to the inquisition, he most likely muted his real attitudes toward science in this speech in an effort to save his life.
